RECRUITS SOUGHT

District National Guard Opens Preparedness Campaign for More Men.

With the whole city thinking and tall-ing preparedness, Brig Gen. William E. Harvey, commander of the District Na-tional Gusrd, yesterday launched a seven-day requisitor, sarrday annuals day recruiting campaign,

Hundreds of persons passing through the downtown section yesterday after-noon were greeted with such posters as "Join the National Guard" and "Do Your Part Toward Preparedness by Joining the National Guard," in the windows of 1225 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, where headquarters have been opened.

remsylvania avenue northwest, where headquarters have been opened.

Scores paused at this sight, unique in Washington, and entered, finding militiamen in uniform ready to show them through the room full of exhibits illustrating the work of every branch of the service. The exhibit building will be open from 1.30 in the afternoon until 11 o'clock at night every day this week. The recruiting campaign, an innovation in the history of the local militia, is affeffort on the part of Gen. Harvey to make the first move toward raising the 200,000 citizen-soldiers provided for in a recent act of Congress which Federalized the militia of the country.

recent act of Congress which Federalized the militia of the country.

Discussing the campaign yesterday, Gen. Harvey said;

"This large auxiliary force can be raised, and will be raised, if the guard receives the backing of the people of the community. But in order to make a success of it, all those who believe in preparedness should (on in the movement) The National Guard does not need every man of military age to serve in the ranks, but it does need the interest and the good will of the people of the comnunity generally
